DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Frank et al (US 4,837,187), and further in view of JP 3-97675.

Frank et al disclose a method of treating a ceramic core after molding and before firing for use in casting molten metallic material comprising the steps of placing the unfired ceramic core and having organic binder, thermosetting or thermoplastic, on one of the setter, then heating the unfired ceramic core to an elevated subambient temperature effective to perform the binder to reduce distortion of the unfired ceramic core (col. 4, lines 38-41, col. 5, lines 6-33).

Art Unit: 1725

Frank et al fail to disclose the method of conveying the setter and the unfired core into a heating oven.

However, JP '675 is introduced to show a conveyor means carrying a setter with a core placed therein. The setter along with the core is being sent to an oven for firing with a control rate of travel to the oven. JP '675 teaches the above differences for the purpose of generating a production line of cores.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide conveyors with setters for the core as taught by JP '675, in Miller, Jr et al in order to generate a production line of cores.

It would also have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have realize that the setter is supplying heat to the unfired core after exiting the heating oven and during cooling, since heat transfer is an inherent property to all materials.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's argument regarding to bringing the unfired ceramic core to an elevated superambient temperature effective to soften the binder to reduce distortion of the unfired ceramic core is moot, since Frank et al discloses the claimed invention above in paragraph 3.

Art Unit: 1725

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
